HISTORY OF STATION CASINOS

Frank Fertitta Jr., who started in the gaming industry as a dealer at the Stardust, had a novel idea back in the 70’s to create a casino that would cater to Las Vegas locals at a time when casinos were only located on the Strip and in downtown Las Vegas. The idea was simple: create a gaming and entertainment venue for locals away from the crowds of tourists, and provide them with great value, service and convenience. While many dismissed the idea, Fertitta, together with three other investors, defied the odds and on July 1, 1976, opened a 5,000 square foot facility called “The Casino”. Fertitta’s vision to cater to locals has grown into one of the most successful stories in Las Vegas history.

Over the ensuing years, more entertainment offerings were added including additional gaming, a sports book, restaurant, buffet and bingo hall. With the new amenities came a new name, the “Bingo Palace.” In 1984 and with the addition of a hotel tower, Bingo Palace evolved into Palace Station to again reflect the changing entertainment offerings.

Through more than a dozen expansions over the years, Palace Station continued to grow and Mr. Fertitta’s sons, Frank III and Lorenzo, had the opportunity to learn the gaming business from their father. They also studied how the town was developing and had a vision for growing the Company by replicating the experience Guests enjoyed at Palace Station throughout other areas in the Las Vegas Valley. In 1993, Fertitta Jr. retired from the business and turned over the reins to his son Frank Fertitta III who fueled the Company’s growth by taking the Company public.

As Frank III was refining the Company’s formula for a successful local’s casino, he was also planning for the Company’s future. He believed that the same type of convenience, value and service that his father started at the Palace Station would be successful on the other side of town, so in 1994, the Company opened Boulder Station. Its success led to the development of additional casinos and the strategic acquisition of additional land for future development. To this day, Station Casinos has a solid growth pipeline with more than 400 acres of land earmarked for future properties throughout the state and controls more gaming entitled land in Southern Nevada than any other Company.

He also followed his father’s advice and knew that the key to the Company’s success fell in the hands of recruiting the best Team Members, as they ensure that Guests have a memorable and enjoyable experience.

TIMELINE

PURPOSE OF THE HANDBOOK

This Handbook does not create an “employment contract” or other contractual rights. Although the Company intends that the benefits, policies and regulations outlined in this Handbook will generally remain in effect, the Company reserves the right at any time to amend, curtail or otherwise revise the benefits, policies or regulations outlined in this Handbook

As a Team Member, you will want to know what you can expect from us and what we expect from you. This Handbook will provide you with that information by outlining many of our Company’s practices, and policies. Its purpose is to acquaint you with our Company and to serve as a ready reference to answer many of your questions regarding your employment with us. Please keep in mind that business conditions change, and this Handbook is only a summary of the Team Member experience, policies, and employment rules that are in effect at the time we published the Handbook.

The terms of this Handbook do not override nor replace the terms of any individual employment agreement, agreements negotiated to cover specific groups of employees, plan descriptions, or information in Company bulletins. When policy changes occur, they will be communicated via existing communication channels.

This Handbook supersedes all prior Handbooks or policies and may be updated from time to time as necessary. It is supplemented by other Company Policies and Procedures, which must be adhered to.

All Company policies are available in their entirety from the Human Resources Department at each property.

Nothing in this Handbook is intended to prevent or discourage Team Members from engaging in activities protected by federal, state, or local law, such as discussing the terms and conditions of their employment, raising complaints about working conditions, engaging in mutual aid or protection with fellow Team Members, or participating in legally required activities.

COMPANY VALUES

KIND

We assist others with the intention of making a positive difference with them.
We approach every interaction with humility, never assuming we know it all or that we are superior to others.

INCLUSIVE

We always extend a warm welcome to others, making them feel like they belong. We maintain an open-minded attitude and actively listen to understand, ensuring effective communication.

FORWARD THINKING

We believe in continual improvement, fostering curiosity, and a willingness to learn. Our proactive approach allows us to anticipate needs rather than waiting to be asked.

RELIABLE

We are dependable, honest, and uphold integrity in all that we do.
We work diligently to consistently deliver products and services with a high degree of attention to detail.

PASSIONATE

We love what we do, and what we do is win hearts. While we take our roles and responsibilities seriously, we also enjoy some fun along the way.

SELF-AWARE

We remain attentive and fully present when interacting with others, responding empathetically and urgently to their needs.
We prioritize the well-being of both ourselves and others, ensuring that safety is always at the forefront of our thoughts and actions.

OUR PHILOSOPHY

Our Tradition is to Welcome Guests as Family

Station Casinos is a family business – started and operated by family, filled with families of both external and internal Guests, and radiating a sincere warmth into the community as a family caring about other families. It is the graciousness of our “feels-like-family” service that will maintain the relationships we already enjoy with Guests and create “Regulars” out of so many new faces. That is how we achieve our goal of winning hearts.

- Always have a friendly approach to others
- Ensure welcoming body language and be ready to take care of a Guest
- Smile and make eye contact
- Always be professionally groomed and wear your uniform properly
- Offer each Guest a welcoming tone and words
- Always practice the 10-5 rule

- Use the Guest’s name
- Create conversation through observation
- Ask meaningful questions
- Listen to learn
- Make a recommendation based on what you learn
- Leave a favorable last impression

- Own the Guest experience but get help when necessary
- Anticipate the Guest’s needs
- Make every visit a celebration
- Use H.E.A.R.T every time a Guest is frustrated
- Share or document the Guest’s experience in a database or with a manager
- Follow up to ensure we won the Guest’s heart
- Make memories for Guests that are so much fun that they do not remember ever going anywhere else

OUR COMMITMENT TO YOU

Station Casinos is fully committed to its most important resource – you, our Team Members. The Company is dedicated to:

- Providing you with competitive wages
- Creating a safe and friendly work environment
- Treating you fairly, with care, dignity and respect
- Recognizing your hard work, dedication, effort and commitment

Our supervisors demonstrate a strong commitment to our Team Members, by mentoring and coaching, addressing issues and concerns, communicating expectations about your role, and supporting you for opportunities for growth and advancement. We encourage you to utilize our open-door policy, and speak with all levels of management, including supervisors, managers, directors, human resources, the general manager, and corporate human resources.

We believe that the most effective way to resolve all issues with our Team Members is through direct one-on-one communication. If you have questions or issues relating to your job, your property, or Station Casinos, speak with your supervisor, manager, director, or any member of management you believe appropriate. If you are uncomfortable speaking with a member of management, you should direct your questions and concerns to Human Resources.

The central component of our commitment to non-supervisory Team Members is the Company’s assurance that any decision to terminate a non-supervisory, non-introductory Team Members shall be fair and reasonable. In most cases, Team Members who believe their termination was inappropriate may challenge the decision during a hearing before a Team Member Council.

Talent Development

Station Casinos’ training programs have established the Company as a leader in the gaming industry. The Company offers a unique training and development structure, which supports our Team Members and the organizational culture. The training structure has been designed to meet the specific needs of each Station Casinos Team Member, whether through leadership development, Guest service, or technical training programs. Training supports all levels within the organization.

Leadership Development

At Station Casinos, we prioritize the development of our leaders, and our Leadership Boot Camp/Tools to Lead program is dedicated to ensuring the success of newly hired or promoted supervisors and other leaders, as well as high-potential hourly Team Members. This comprehensive class equips them with the essential skills needed for effective leadership within our organization. Continuing to enhance our leadership capabilities, we offer the Learning to Lead series, featuring classes that delve deeper into vital leadership behaviors such as communication, performance management, accountability, motivation, and recognition.

Our commitment to exceptional training is reflected in our in-house Leadership Development classes, thoughtfully tailored for our leaders to learn through hands-on experiences relevant to their roles, our industry, and our Company’s core values. To ensure best-in-class training for our Team Members, we have dedicated Training Managers at each property, providing specialized training to address specific needs.

How We Recognize You

Recognizing our Team for their effort is important to Station Casinos. That is why we use many different methods to acknowledge our Team Members.

- Team Member of the Month

Team Member Benefits

Seventy Six Taverns will offer a competitive benefits package.

Overview

Full-time, hourly Team Members will earn PTO in accordance with the following schedule:

Years of Service at Anniversary Date	Annual PTO Allowance
After 90 days but less than one year	Refer to holiday policy
1 year of service	40 hours
2-5 years of service	80 hours
6-11 years of service	120 hours
12+ years of service	160 hours

Part-time hourly Team Members will earn PTO at a rate of 0.01923 per hour worked. All earned and unused PTO hours will not be paid upon termination of employment. PTO policy complies with Nevada Leave Act.

Eligibility

Full-Time hourly Team Members who have successfully completed the Introductory Period (90 days) are offered three “floating” holidays. For more information about requesting, and the conditions applicable to floating holidays, Team Members should see their manager or their Human Resources department.

Flexible Time off (FTO)

Station Casinos provides paid FTO time to salaried exempt Team Members to use for rest and relaxation, holidays, personal or medical appointments, and short-term illness. Station Casinos is committed to providing Team Members the proper work/life balance as a benefit for personal and professional growth. The purpose of FTO is to encourage eligible Team Members to schedule and take time off while being mindful of job responsibilities, expectations, business needs and individual performance, and provide an environment where eligible Team Members communicate with their managers to plan adequately for time off.

Our Corporate Giving Philosophy

From its inception, our Company has taken an active interest in improving the quality of life in our communities. Making voluntary contributions to charitable organizations is one way in which we continue to make an investment in the future of our Company, our Team Members, their families and the community as a whole.

Smart Start School Program

Each Station Casinos property has an elementary school with which the it partners throughout the year. The property and the school work together to support the students through different activities and events during the school year

Community Partners

The Company is a very active community partner and works with many organizations throughout Las Vegas. For a full list of community partners please see your property Human Resources department.

EMPLOYMENT CLASSIFICATION

Team Member Status

1. Full-Time Team Members should be regularly scheduled 30 hours or more.
2. Part-Time Team Members will be regularly scheduled less than 30 hours per week and may not have set schedules.

For the purposes of family and medical leave, eligibility requirements may depend on their employment status. Not all Team Members are eligible for all benefits. Insurance plan documents or applicable law will control benefit eligibility. If Team Members have any questions concerning their status or the benefits for which they qualify, please contact Human Resources.

Internal Employment Opportunities

The Company’s objective is to enable each department/property to hire the best-qualified individuals for open positions. To provide Team Members with the opportunity to apply for new positions or transfers before external advertising, and all qualified applicants will be considered. To be eligible for a transfer, Team Members must meet the following requirements:

- Must have completed their introductory period to transfer to another Tavern
- Must have been employed for at least 180 days to transfer to a Wildfire or large property.
- Must meet the minimum qualifications of the job position applied for, as stated on the applicable job description.
- Must be in good standing with the Company. (No active written warnings or multiple verbal warnings)

Completing a Station Casinos Transfer Request online at myslife.net expresses interest in a position but does not guarantee a transfer.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Bereavement Leave

After 90 days of employment, all full-time and part-time Team Members are eligible for paid bereavement leave for the death of an immediate family member. For this policy, an immediate family member is defined as a parent, legal guardian, stepparent, spouse, child, son-in- law, daughter-in-law, stepchild, sibling, sibling’s spouse, grandparents, grandchildren, spouse’s parents, spouse’s siblings, or spouse’s sibling’s spouse. The Company will provide up to five (5) regularly scheduled days off with pay to attend to matters related to the death of an immediate family member. Additional time off may be warranted in specific circumstances and requires approval from Department Management. This additional time off can be taken as PTO or, if the Team Member does not have PTO or is ineligible for PTO, without pay. Appropriate documentation is required.

Jury Duty / Witness Duty Leave

The Company will grant a job-protected leave of absence to all Team Members who have been notified to serve for jury duty or summoned to appear as a witness. Team Member should promptly notify their supervisor upon receiving a jury duty notice. Full-time Team Members with at least one (1) year of employment who are summoned to jury duty will receive the difference between their regular salary (excluding tips) and the amount received from the court (excluding any transportation allowance) for up to two (2) weeks per jury duty notice. If a Team Member does not qualify, all time for jury duty will be unpaid. All Team Members will be allowed paid time off if summoned to appear in court as a witness for the Company. Team Members will be granted unpaid time off if summoned to appear in court as a witness for any other party.

Voting Leave

If a Team Member is a registered voter and it is impracticable for them to vote before or after their hours of work, they may take off sufficient time to vote. A sufficient time to vote shall be determined as follows:

- a. If the distance between their workplace and the polling place where they vote is two (2) miles or less, they are allowed one (1) hour.
- b. If the distance is more than two (2) miles but not more than ten (10) miles, they are allowed two (2) hours.
- c. If the distance is more than ten (10) miles, they are allowed three (3) hours.

All time off will be paid. The time off shall be taken only at the beginning or end of their shift, unless their supervisor agrees otherwise. If time off is needed, the Team Member must notify their supervisor and the Human Resources department prior to the day of the election.

Military Leave

Team Members who require time off from work to fulfill military duties will be treated in accordance with applicable requirements of state and federal laws. Team Members are expected to notify the Company in advance of upcoming military duty by providing a supervisor with verbal or written notice as soon as possible. Team Members on federal military leave may be entitled to continue health insurance benefits, at the Team Member’s expense, for up to 24 months. To obtain further information about military leave, please contact your property’s Human Resources department.

School Activities Leave

Every Team Member who is a parent, guardian, or custodian of a child in a public school is eligible for up to four (4) hours of unpaid leave each school year to attend or participate in certain school-related activities. These activities include:

- Attending scheduled parent-teacher conferences
- Attending school-related activities during regular school hours
- Volunteering or otherwise being involved at the child’s school during regular school hours
- Attending school-sponsored events

Leave will be granted on a per child basis. Eligible Team Members are entitled to up to four (4) hours of leave for each child they have enrolled in school. Team Members must use parental leave in increments of at least one (1) hour.

Team Members requesting leave must submit a written request for leave to their supervisor and Human Resources department at least five (5) school days before the leave is taken, when practicable.

Team Members who take leave must also provide documentation demonstrating their attendance or involvement in the school or school-related activity during the leave.

School Exigent or Emergencies Leave

The Company will allow Team Members who are parents (including legal guardians or custodians) time off from work in order to:

- Appear at exigent, unscheduled meetings with their child’s teacher and/or administrators
- Respond to notice from their child’s school of an emergency regarding their child. Team Members should notify their supervisor as soon as possible that they will require time off for a school conference or emergency. Time off under this policy will be unpaid, except that exempt Team Members may receive pay for partial day absences, as required by applicable law.

Leave of Absence Covered by Family & Medical Leave Act

The Family and Medical Leave Act (“FMLA”) provides eligible Team Members the opportunity to take unpaid, job-protected leave for certain specified reasons. The maximum amount of leave a Team Member may use is twelve (12) weeks within a twelve (12) month period, except for military caregiver leave, which is up to twenty-six (26) weeks in a twelve (12) month period.

Team Member Eligibility

To be eligible for FMLA leave, the Team Member must:

- Have worked at least twelve (12) months for the Company (not necessarily consecutive)
- Have worked at least 1,250 hours for the Company over the twelve (12) months preceding the date the Team Member’s leave would begin
- Currently work at a location where there are at least fifty (50) Team Members within seventy-five (75) miles.

All periods of absence from work due to or necessitated by service in the uniformed services are counted in determining FMLA eligibility.

Reasons for Taking Leave

FMLA leave may be taken for the following reasons:

- Birth of a Team Member’s child, including time for bonding with the child after birth. (up to twelve weeks)
- Placement of a child with a Team Member in connection with the adoption or foster care of the child by the Team Member.

- To care for an immediate family member with a serious health condition. (Team Member’s spouse, child, or parent)
- Because of a Team Member’s serious health condition that makes the Team Member unable to perform the functions of the Team Member’s position.
- To care for a Covered Servicemember with a serious injury or illness related to certain types of military service (up to twenty-six weeks; see Military-Related FMLA Leave for more details).
- To handle certain qualifying exigencies arising out of the fact that the Team Member’s spouse, son, daughter, or parent is on duty under a call or order to active duty in the Uniformed Services (up to twenty-six weeks; see Military-Related FMLA Leave for more details).

The maximum amount of leave that may be taken in a twelve (12) month period for all reasons combined is twelve (12) weeks, with one exception. For leave to care for a Covered Service member, the maximum combined leave entitlement is twenty-six (26) weeks, with leaves for all other reasons constituting no more than twelve (12) of those twenty-six (26) weeks.

Definitions

A “Serious Health Condition” refers to an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves either (i) an overnight stay in a medical care facility, or (ii) continuing treatment by a health-care provider for a condition that either prevents the Team Member from performing the functions of the Team Member’s job or prevents the qualified family member from participating in daily activities for more than three (3) full calendar days. The ongoing treatment requirement includes two (2) visits to a healthcare provider or one (1) visit to a healthcare provider accompanied by a continuing regimen of care. An incapacity resulting from pregnancy or prenatal visits, a chronic condition (such as asthma, diabetes, or migraines) that persists over an extended period of time and necessitates periodic visits (at least two per year) to a healthcare provider, permanent or long-term conditions requiring supervision without active treatment by a healthcare provider, or absences due to multiple treatments ordered by a healthcare provider may also meet the criteria of a Serious Health Condition.

Identifying the 12-Month Period

The Company determines the twelve (12) month period for leave is taken using the “rolling” twelve (12) month method, calculated backward from the date of any FMLA leave with one exception. FMLA leave related to the birth or placement of a child for adoption or foster care must be concluded within twelve (12) months of the birth or placement.

Using Leave

Eligible Team Members may utilize FMLA leave in a single block of time, intermittently (in separate blocks of time), or by reducing the normal work schedule (including the elimination of required overtime) when medically necessary due to the serious health condition of the Team Member or immediate family member. In the case of a Covered Servicemember, FMLA leave can also be used for their injury or illness.

Eligible Team Members may also request intermittent or reduced-schedule leave for military qualifying exigencies. When planning medical treatment requiring intermittent or reduced-schedule leave, Team Members should make reasonable efforts to schedule it to minimize disruption to the Company’s operations.

Use of Paid Leave

Depending on the purpose of a Team Member’s leave request, the Company will require the Team Member to use any available or accrued paid leave (such PTO, vacation, or FTO), concurrently with the Team Member’s FMLA leave.

Notice and Medical Certification

When seeking FMLA leave, the Team Member must provide:

- Sufficient information for the Company to determine if the requested leave may qualify for FMLA protection and the anticipated timing and duration of the leave. Sufficient information may include the Team Member’s inability to perform job functions, a family member’s inability to perform daily activities, the need for hospitalization or continuing treatment by a healthcare provider, or circumstances supporting the need for military family leave. The Team Member must also inform the Company if the requested leave is for a reason for which FMLA leave was previously taken or certified.
- Thirty (30) days advance notice of the need to take FMLA leave if the need for leave is foreseeable, or notice as soon as practicable in the case of unforeseeable leave and in compliance with the Company’s normal call-in procedures, except under unusual circumstances.
- Medical certification supporting the need for leave due to a serious health condition affecting the Team Member or an immediate family member within fifteen (15) calendar days of the Company’s request to provide the certification (additional time may be permitted under certain circumstances). If the Team Member fails to do so, the Company may delay the commencement of the Team Member’s leave, withdraw any designation of FMLA leave or deny the leave, in which case the Team Member’s leave of absence would be treated in accordance with the Company’s standard leave of absence and attendance policies, subjecting the Team Member to disciplinary action, up to and including termination. Second or third medical opinions and periodic re-certifications may also be required.
- Periodic reports as deemed appropriate during the leave regarding the Team Member’s status and intent to return to work.
- Medical certification of fitness for duty before returning to work, if the leave was due to the Team Member’s serious health condition, as permitted by law. The Company will require this certification to address whether the Team Member can perform the essential functions of their position.

- For intermittent leave, the Team Member must follow the Company’s standard call-in procedures for unscheduled absences, including contacting both department management and the leave administrator to report an absence.

The Team Member is responsible for specifying that their absence is related to their FMLA claim when reporting an absence to their department. Failure to comply with the above requirements may result in delay, denial of leave, or disciplinary action.

Job Restoration

Except as otherwise provided by applicable law, upon returning from FMLA leave, the Team Member will be restored to the same or a comparable position as the position held prior to the leave.

Fraud

Providing false or misleading information or omitting material information in connection with an FMLA leave will result in disciplinary action, up to and including immediate termination.

Maintenance of Health Benefits

The Company will maintain coverage under the Seventy-Six group health plan during the Team Member’s FMLA leave on the same terms as if they continued to work. The Team Member is responsible for maintaining their premium payments. Please see the FMLA policy for further details. Use of FMLA leave will not result in the loss of any employment benefit that accrued prior to the start of the Team Member’s leave. Consult the applicable plan document for all information regarding eligibility, coverage and benefits.

Employer Responsibilities

The Company, via the designated Third Party Administrator (TPA), will inform the Team Member whether the Team Member are eligible for leave under the FMLA. Should the Team Member be eligible for FMLA leave, the Company will provide a notice that specifies any additional information required as well as his/her rights and responsibilities. The Company will also inform the Team Member if leave will be designated as FMLA-protected and, to the extent possible, note the amount of leave counted against the Team Member’s leave entitlement. If the Team Member are not eligible for FMLA leave, the Company will provide a reason for the ineligibility.

Failure to Return after FMLA Leave

If the Team Member fails to return to work as scheduled after FMLA leave or if the Team Member exceeds the twelve (12) week FMLA entitlement (or in the case of military caregiver leave, the twenty-six week FMLA entitlement), the Team Member will be subject to the Company’s standard leave of absence and attendance policies. This may result in termination if the Team Member has no other Company-provided leave available to them that applies to their continued absence. Similarly, after the conclusion of the Team Member’s FMLA leave, the Company’s obligation to maintain the Team Member’s group health plan benefits may end (subject to any applicable COBRA rights). If the Team Member is unable to return to work after FMLA leave, the Team Member must notify Human Resources. If the Company becomes aware of the need for additional leave, it will engage in an interactive process to determine whether the condition is a disability for which additional unpaid leave may be provided as a reasonable accommodation.

Other Employment

While on a leave of absence, Team Members are prohibited from holding other employment, including self-employment, that they did not hold immediately prior to the start of the leave. In other words, a Team Member who had another job in addition to their job with the Company may continue working that job while on leave from the Company if medically able to do so. However, such a Team Member may not seek and hold other employment to replace their employment with the Company while on leave. This policy remains in effect during all leaves of absence, including FMLA leave, and violation may result in disciplinary action, up to and including immediate termination of employment.

Military-Related FMLA Leave

FMLA leave may also be available to eligible Team Members in connection with certain service- related medical and non-medical needs of family members. There are two forms of such leave: Military Caregiver Leave and Qualifying Exigency Leave, each detailed below.

Definitions

A “Covered Servicemember” is either: (1) a current Servicemember of the Armed Forces, including a member of the National Guard or Reserve, with a serious injury or illness incurred in the line of duty for which the Servicemember is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy, is otherwise in outpatient status, or is otherwise on the temporary disability retired list; or (2) a “covered veteran” who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy for a serious injury or illness.

A “covered veteran” is an individual who was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable during the five (5) years prior to the first date the eligible Team Member takes FMLA leave to care for the covered veteran.

The FMLA definitions of “serious injury or illness” for current Servicemembers and veterans are distinct from the FMLA definition of “serious health condition.” For purposes of Military- Related FMLA Leave, the term “serious injury or illness” applies to an injury or illness incurred by the Servicemember in the line of duty while on active duty in the Armed Forces that may render the Servicemember medically unfit to perform the duties of the Servicemember’s office, grade, rank, or rating, or one that existed before the beginning of active duty and was aggravated by service in the line of duty while on active duty. With regard to covered veterans, the serious injury or illness may manifest itself before or after the individual assumed veteran status, and is: (1) a continuation of a serious injury or illness that was incurred or aggravated when the covered veteran was a member of the Armed Forces and rendered the Servicemember unable to perform the duties of the Servicemember’s office, grade, rank or rating; (2) a physical or mental condition for which the covered veteran has received a VA Service Related Disability Rating (VASRD) of 50 percent or greater and such VASRD rating is based, in whole or in part, on the condition precipitating the need for caregiver leave; (3) a physical or mental condition that substantially impairs the veteran’s ability to secure or follow a substantially gainful occupation by reason of a disability or disabilities related to military service or would be so absent treatment; or (4) an injury, including a psychological injury, on the basis of which the covered veteran has been enrolled in the Department of Veterans Affairs Program of Comprehensive Assistance for Family Caregivers. “Qualifying exigencies” include activities such as short-notice deployment, military events, arranging alternative childcare, making financial and legal arrangements related to the deployment, rest and recuperation, counseling, parental care, and post-deployment debriefings.

Military Caregiver Leave

Unpaid Military Caregiver Leave is designed to allow eligible Team Members to care for certain family members who have sustained serious injuries or illnesses in the line of duty while on active duty. The family member must be a “Covered Servicemember,” which means: (1) a current member or veteran of the Armed Forces, National Guard or Reserve, (2) who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy or, in the case of a veteran, who was a member of the Armed Forces, National Guard or Reserve, who was discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable at any time within five years prior to the treatment which an eligible Team Member requests; is otherwise in outpatient status; or is otherwise on the temporary disability retired list, (3) for a serious injury or illness that may render the current member medically unfit to perform the duties of the member’s office, grade, rank, or rating. Military Caregiver Leave is not available to care for Servicemembers on the permanent disability retired list. Serious injury or illness specifically includes, but is not limited to, aggravation of a preexisting condition while in the line of duty.

To be eligible for Military Caregiver Leave, the Team Member must be a spouse, son, daughter, parent, or next of kin of the Covered Servicemember. “Next of kin” means the nearest blood relative of the Servicemember, other than the Servicemember’s spouse, parent, son, or daughter, in the following order of priority: blood relatives who have been granted legal custody of the Servicemember by court decree or statutory provisions; brothers and sisters; grandparents; aunts and uncles; and first cousins; unless the Servicemember has specifically designated in writing another blood relative as their nearest blood relative for purposes of Military Caregiver Leave. The Team Member must also meet all other eligibility standards as set forth within the FMLA Leave policy.

An eligible Team Member may take up to twenty- six (26) workweeks of Military Caregiver Leave to care for a Covered Servicemember in a “single twelve (12) month period.” The “single twelve (12) month period” begins on the first day leave is taken to care for a Covered Servicemember and ends twelve (12) months thereafter, regardless of the method used to determine leave availability for other FMLA-qualifying reasons.

Within the “single twelve (12) month period” described above, an eligible Team Member may take a combined total of twenty-six (26) weeks of FMLA leave including up to twelve (12) weeks of leave for any other FMLA-qualifying reason (i.e., birth or adoption of a child, serious health condition of the Team Member or close family member, or a qualifying exigency). For example, during the “single twelve (12) month period,” an eligible Team Member may take up to sixteen (16) weeks of FMLA leave to care for a Covered Servicemember when combined with up to ten (10) weeks of FMLA leave to care for a newborn child.

A Team Member seeking Military Caregiver Leave may be required to provide appropriate certification from the Team Member and/or Covered Servicemember and completed by an authorized healthcare provider within fifteen (15) days. Military Caregiver Leave is subject to the other provisions in our FMLA

Leave Policy (requirements regarding Team Member eligibility, appropriate notice of the need for leave, use of accrued paid leave, etc.). Military Caregiver Leave will be governed by, and handled in accordance with, the FMLA and applicable regulations, and nothing within this policy should be construed to be inconsistent with those regulations.

Qualifying Exigency Leave

Eligible Team Members may take unpaid “Qualifying Exigency Leave” to tend to certain “exigencies” arising out of the duty under a call or order to active duty of a “covered military member” (i.e., the Team Member’s spouse, son, daughter, or parent). Up to twelve (12) weeks of Qualifying Exigency Leave is available in any twelve (12) month period, as measured by the same method that governs measurement of other forms of FMLA leave within the FMLA policy. The only exception is Military Caregiver Leave, which has a maximum of twenty-six (26) weeks of leave in a “single twelve (12) month period.” The maximum duration of Qualifying Exigency Leave for bonding with a military member during short- term, temporary rest and recuperation during deployment is fifteen (15) days. Although Qualifying Exigency Leave may be combined with leave for other FMLA-qualifying reasons, under no circumstances may the combined total exceed twelve (12) weeks in any twelve (12) month period (with the exception of Military Caregiver Leave as set forth above). The Team Member must meet all other eligibility standards as set forth within the FMLA policy. A call to active duty refers to a federal call to active duty, and state calls to active duty are not covered unless under the order of the President of the United States pursuant to certain laws.

Qualifying Exigency Leave is available under the following circumstances:

Short-Notice Deployment

To address any issue that arises out of short notice (within seven days or less) of an impending call or order to active duty.

Military Events and Related Activities

To attend any official military ceremony, program, or event related to active duty or a call to active- duty status or to attend certain family support or assistance programs and informational briefings.

Childcare and school activities

To arrange for alternative childcare; to provide childcare on an urgent, immediate need basis; to enroll in or transfer to a new school or daycare facility; or to attend meetings with staff at a school or daycare facility.

Financial And Legal Arrangements

To make or update various financial or legal arrangements; or to act as the covered military member’s representative before a federal, state, or local agency in connection with service benefits.

Counseling

To attend counseling (by someone other than a healthcare provider) for the employee, the covered military member, or for a child or dependent, when necessary, as a result of duty under a call or order to active duty.

Temporary rest and recuperation

To spend time with a covered military member who is on short-term, temporary rest and recuperation leave during the period of deployment. Eligible Team Members may take up to fifteen (15) days of leave for each instance of rest and recuperation.

Post-deployment activities

To attend arrival ceremonies, reintegration briefings and events, and any other official ceremony or program sponsored by the military for a period of up to ninety (90) days following termination of the covered military member’s active-duty status. This also encompasses leave to address issues that arise from the death of a covered military member while on active-duty status.

Mutually Agreed leave

Other events that arise from the close family mem-ber’s call or order to active duty, provided that the Company and the Team Member agree that such leave qualifies as an exigency and agree to both the timing and duration of such leave.

A Team Member Seeking Qualifying Exigency

Leave may be required to submit appropriate supporting documentation in the form of a copy of the covered military member’s active-duty orders or other military documentation indicating the appropriate military status and the dates of active- duty status, along with a statement setting forth the nature and details of the specific exigency, the amount of leave needed, and theTeam Member’s relationship to the military member, within fifteen(15) days. Qualifying Exigency Leave will be governed by, and handled in accordance with, the FMLA and applicable regulations, and nothing within this policy should be construed to be inconsistent with those regulations.

Nevada Pregnant Workers’ Fairness Act

All Team Members are advised of the following:

- 1. Pursuant to NRS 613.4353 to 613.4383, inclusive, of the Nevada Pregnant Workers’ Fairness Act, Team Members have the right to be free from discriminatory or unlawful employment practices based on pregnancy, childbirth, or a related medical condition.
- 2. A female Team Member has the right to a reasonable accommodation for a condition relating to pregnancy, childbirth, or a related medical condition.

The Company is committed to complying with all laws protecting Team Members under the Nevada Pregnant Workers’ Fairness Act, and the Company will provide a reasonable accommodation for any known condition relating to pregnancy, childbirth, or a related medical condition of a female Team Member, provided the requested accommodation does not create an undue hardship for the Company.

If a Team Member requires an accommodation under the Nevada Pregnant Workers’ Fairness Act, they must notify their property’s Human Resources department. Once the Company is aware of the need for an accommodation, the Company will engage in an interactive process to identify possible accommodations. A female Team Member may be required to submit a written explanatory statement from the Team Member’s physician concerning the need for an accommodation because of pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions, and the specific accommodation recommended by the physician. If a Team Member believes that they have been treated in a manner not in accordance with these policies, they must notify the Company immediately by speaking to their property’s Human Resources department. Team Members are encouraged to utilize this procedure without fear of retaliation.

Leave for Victims of Domestic Violence

If a Team Member or a member of their family or household is a victim of domestic violence, they may receive unpaid leave for the following purposes as they relate to an act of domestic violence committed against the Team Member, or a member of their family or household: (1) for the diagnosis, care or treatment of a heath condition related to an act of domestic violence; (2) to obtain counseling or assistance related to an act of domestic violence; (3) to participate in any court proceeding related to an act of domestic violence; (4) to establish a safety plan, including, without limitation, any action to increase the safety of the Team Member or the family or household member of the Team Member from a future act of domestic violence. Under no circumstances will Team Members be terminated, threatened, coerced, penalized, or retaliated against because they request or take leave in accordance with this policy.

Team Members must provide their supervisor with at least 48 hours notice of the need to use additional hours of leave after (and with the exception of) the leave taken upon the initial occurrence of the act which constitutes domestic violence. The Company may require Team Members to provide documentation that confirms or supports the reason for the requested leave, including, but not limited to: (1) a police report; (2) a copy of an application for an order for protection; (3) an affidavit from and organization which provides services to victims of domestic violence; (4) documentation from a physician or healthcare provider.

In addition, Team Members who are victims of domestic violence are entitled to a reasonable accommodation for their safety while at work. A reasonable accommodation may include: the implementation of safety measures or procedures, including a transfer, reassignment, modified schedule, changed work telephone, changed workstation, or installed lock; assistance in documenting domestic violence that occurs in the workplace; or another adjustment to the Team Member’s job duties and position to ensure the safety of the Team Member, workplace, the employer or other Team Members. If a Team Member requires such an accommodation, they must notify their property’s Human Resources department. The Company will engage the Team Member in a timely, good faith, and interactive process to determine effective reasonable accommodations, and may require supporting documentation of the same.

STATE LAWS & RIGHTS

The Company intends to comply with all applicable state and federal laws, including, but not limited to, those relating to medical, family or military leave, equal opportunity, gaming, environmental regulations and laws, safety, health, and laws regarding any other terms and conditions of employment. Similarly, Team Members are expected to comply with all laws that apply to their job(s) as a condition of their continued employment.

This Handbook, and each of its provisions, is to be interpreted and/or applied in accordance with all applicable federal, state and local laws. Insofar as there is or may appear to be a conflict between the wording of any provision of this Handbook and applicable law, the law shall take precedence and the provision in question shall be interpreted and applied in a way that conforms to the law.

Americans with Disabilities Act Policy Statement

The Company is committed to complying with all applicable provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and its equivalent state and local laws. The Company not discriminate against any qualified Team Member or applicant with regard to any terms or conditions of employment because of an individual’s disability or perceived disability, so long as the Team Member can perform the essential functions of the job, with or without reasonable accommodation. In line with Company policy of nondiscrimination, qualified individuals with a disability will be reasonably accommodated, as defined by the ADA or applicable state or local law, after making the Company aware of their disability, provided that such accommodations do not constitute an undue hardship on the Company.

Team Members with a disability who believe they need a reasonable accommodation to perform the essential functions of their job should contact their property Human Resources department. The Company encourages individuals with disabilities to come forward and request reasonable accommodations.

Reasonable Accommodations

To assist Team Members who are or become disabled, who suffer on-the-job injuries or who have known limitations due to pregnancy, childbirth, or a related condition, the Company will make reasonable accommodations to enable such Team Members to continue performing the essential functions of their jobs. Consistent with this policy, the Company may modify job duties to comply with medical requirements or restrictions. Other accommodations, such as modification of work hours, more frequent breaks, seating accommodations, limits on lifting, relocation of a work area, providing mechanical or electrical aids, transfer to a less strenuous or less hazardous position, and/or allowing Team Members to apply for a vacant position for which they are qualified or granting a leave of absence may be appropriate, depending upon specific facts and circumstances of individual situations.

In addition, the Company is committed to complying with the laws related to providing reasonable accommodation for Team Members’ sincerely held religious beliefs and observances. The Company will provide such accommodations to the extent required by the law provided the requested accommodation does not create an undue hardship for the Company and/or does not pose a direct threat to the health and safety of others and/or the individual.

If a Team Member needs to request an accommodation, please notify the Company’s third-party administrator and Human Resources. The Company will discuss the matter with the Team Member, investigate their request, and to the extent possible, attempt to reasonably accommodate them.

Any Team Member who has questions or concerns about reasonable accommodations in the workplace is encouraged to report these issues to the attention of Human Resources. A Team Member can raise concerns and make reports and/or requests without fear of reprisal. Anyone who retaliates against any Team Member for reporting concerns or making accommodation requests will be subject to discipline, up to and including immediate termination.

COMPENSATION AND PAY PRACTICES

Station Casinos is proud to pay competitive wages to all Team Members

Pay Periods

The Company uses a bi-weekly pay period. A Team Member’s Human Resources department can provide the pay schedule.

Pay Corrections

Corrections to a Team Member’s paycheck must be brought to the attention of their supervisor or department manager. Corrections shall be made on the next issued paycheck. If a Team Member loses their paycheck, they must notify their property’s Human Resources department.

Direct Deposit

Team Members are encouraged to take advantage of the opportunity to have wages and other compensation automatically and securely deposited into their personal bank accounts immediately upon the availability of payment. They can sign up for Direct Deposit through the ADP self-service portal.

Overtime Pay Procedures

To meet business schedules and needs, it may be necessary to require Team Members to work overtime. Overtime work must be approved in advance by a supervisor. Any Team Member who works unauthorized overtime will be properly compensated for this time but may be subject to coaching or discipline for failing to comply with this policy. All overtime is paid consistently with legal requirements. PTO, paid holidays, and other paid absences from work are not considered time worked for overtime computation purposes.

OUR EXPECTATIONS

Team Member Work Hours/Work Schedules

The Company relies on its Team Members to be present and prompt when reporting for work to deliver great Guest service. It is essential that Team Members adhere to the posted schedule and report to their workstation at their scheduled time. Please be aware that due to the nature of the business, schedules may change from time to time. This includes starting or end times and total hours worked each day. It is the responsibility of Team Members to check the posted schedule for schedule changes, which may be effective the following day.

Timekeeping Procedures

The purpose of accurately recording work time is to ensure that Team Members are compensated for all time worked. All hourly Team Members are responsible for clocking in at the start of their work shift and clocking out at the end of their work shift. Additionally, hourly Team Members are expected to take and record any and all applicable breaks. This process allows the Company to properly compensate Team Members for all hours worked and to ensure that Team Members take all the breaks to which they are entitled.

The Company prohibits all Team Members from performing any work without recording their time for payroll purposes (i.e., “working off the clock”). Team Members will not be directed to work off the clock. The Company prohibits Team Members from clocking in/out for other Team Members. Falsification of time records or improper recording of working time are grounds for termination of employment. If time is improperly recorded, it must be brought immediately to the attention of a supervisor.

If a Team Member has any questions or concerns regarding their hours or if they are aware of any violations of the Company’s timekeeping policies (including, but not limited to, those on recording all hours worked, and overtime), they should contact their property’s Human Resources department.

Meal & Break Periods

The Company recognizes the need for all Team Members to refresh and recharge by taking breaks during the workday. Therefore, Team Members will be provided paid breaks during their shift based on the number of hours they are working that day.

The Company shall provide reasonable break time for a Team Member to express breast milk for their nursing child. Such break time will be unpaid unless otherwise required by law. Team Members may contact their property’s Human Resources department for more information regarding this policy.

Break Areas

The Team Member designated break areas and dining room are the only approved areas for breaks.

Smoking Policy

Team Members on duty and/or in uniform may smoke or use tobacco related products in designated Team Member smoking areas only.

Personal Information

To ensure that the Company’s personnel files are up-to-date and contain accurate, complete information, Team Members are asked to update their profile in Oracle with any changes that need to be made in the following categories:

- Name
- Telephone number
- Email address
- Home address
- Marital status
- Number of dependents
- Beneficiary designations
- Individual to notify in case of an emergency

Work Cards

Examples of work cards include but are not limited to:

- Employment Authorization documents
- Nevada Driver’s license
- Alcohol Awareness Card
- Gaming Registration
- Health Card

All applicable work cards, gaming registrations, licenses and/or certifications/cards must be current and valid during a Team Member’s employment with the Company. It is the responsibility of Team Members to renew their work cards prior to the expiration date. Failing to renew a required work card prior to its expiration will result in the Team Member being unable to work and removal from their department’s schedule. If they then return to work with valid work cards within three (3) business days, they will be returned to the schedule but will receive discipline under job performance and their absence will be considered an attendance infraction. If they do not return within three (3) business days with valid work cards, they will be discharged.

Team Members who fail to obtain and present up-dated employment authorization documents will be discharged immediately. They will not be given a 3-day grace period. If a Team Member who was discharged presents an updated employment autho-rization document within 90 days of the termination date, the Team Member may be reinstated with the Company. The Team Member may be reinstated into their former position provided that the position is still available.

Personnel Files

If a Team Member would like to view their personnel file, they must contact their property’s Human Resources department.

Introductory Period

The introductory period is the first ninety (90) cal-endar days of employment. During the introductory period, the Company will objectively review a Team Member’s job performance as it relates to a Team Member’s assigned job tasks, We Win Hearts service program, and attendance to make a decision con-cerning a Team Member’s continued employment. After a Team Member completes their introductory period, the Company will continue to periodically review a Team Member’s overall job performance. Completion of the introductory period does not change a Team Member’s at-will employment status.

DISCIPLINE

All Team Members are to keep themselves informed of Company and departmental rules, policies, pro-cedures, standards and expectations by reviewing the Company’s Team Member Handbook and other departmental policies and procedures provided to them. The Company may issue discipline to hourly Team Members, provided that the discipline is fair and reasonable.

Categories of Discipline

Attendance

Includes absences, tardiness, and Team Member re-quested “early outs.” The consequences for repeated attendance violations are set forth in the attendance policy.

Job Performance

A Team Member’s failure to (a) satisfy the require-ments and expectations and tasks of their job requirements (as set forth in the applicable job description), or (b) comply with Company rules, policies, and procedures.

Levels of Discipline

The levels of discipline are recommended steps to help improve the performance of a Team Member. These steps are intended to provide opportunities for feedback and coaching, with the goal of improv-ing performance. Depending on the seriousness of the conduct and the particular facts of the individual infraction (or multiple infractions), disciplinary action may begin with a verbal warning, followed by a writ-ten warning, a final warning, and ultimately, termina-tion. This allows the Team Member to modify their conduct. However, management will start at the level of discipline it reasonably believes necessary to adequately address the seriousness of the infraction, up to and including termination of employment.

Steps of Discipline

- Step 1: Verbal Warning
- Step 2: Written Warning
- Step 3: Final Warning
- Step 4: Termination

Suspensions

Suspension Pending Investigation (“SPI”) may be war-anted to remove the Team Member from the workplace during an ongoing investigation. Team Members are not paid while on SPI. If the SPI results in termination, the Team Member will not be paid for their time spent on SPI. If the SPI time is con-verted to a step in the disciplinary process (other than termination) or if no wrongdoing is found, the Team Member will be paid their hourly wage (not including any tips) for any scheduled work shifts missed during the time they were placed on SPI.

Administration

All discipline for job performance will remain active in the Team Member’s file for 6 months.

Code of Ethics

The Board of Managers of the Company has adopted a Code of Business Conduct and Ethics policy to assist in maintaining the highest ethical and moral standards and ensure compliance with all applicable laws. The Code discusses how the Company treats “inside” information, bribes, conflicts of interest, protection of Company assets, confidentiality, record keeping and protection against retaliation. The Code is available to all Team Members. Any Team Member who would like additional information or feels that a violation should be reported, should contact the Company’s Ethical Ombudsperson at:

ATTENDANCE AND PUNCTUALITY

As a Company that embraces the family atmosphere, it is very important that Team Members support each other. If a Team Member is excessively late or absent, it creates a tremendous burden to Company Guests and fellow Team Members. Being there for each other is critical to our success.

This attendance and punctuality policy is based on a six (6) point system for all non-exempt Team Members. Points are accumulated for any incident outlined below not legally protected under local, state, and/or federal law. A total of six (6) points ac-cumulated in a rolling twelve (12) month period may result in termination of employment. All attendance points/issued discipline will remain active for twelve (12) months.

It is a Team Member’s responsibility to contact their supervisor, manager, or director two (2) hours prior to their scheduled start time if they are going to be late or absent from work, for any reason. A failure to comply with these call-in procedures may result in the assessment of points and/or job performance infractions. Another individual may contact the Team Member’s supervisor on their behalf only if it is impossible for the Team Member to do so. Being on time means being at the workstation, fully prepared to begin work at the scheduled start time.

Incidents will be recorded as follows:
Peak period business attendance violations will be recorded as doubled unless the reason for the

Points will NOT be recorded for:

- Jury Duty
- Bereavement Leave
- Approved FMLA
(please see Family Medical Leave policy and guidelines). However, Team Members with approved Intermittent FMLA must follow proper call-in procedures for each shift not worked due to intermittent leave, unless otherwise protected by law.
- Approved Military Leave
- Documented on-the-job injury and/or Worker’s Compensation Leave
- Pre-approved PTO or another pre-approved time off
- Any other leave or time off that is protected by local, state, or federal law

Incident	Points
One Day Absent	1 point
Consecutive Absences Please refer to Leave of Absence (LOA) guidelines which may impact whether attendance points are assessed; i.e., points do not accumulate for approved time off protected by federal, state, or local law, such as absences covered by the Family Medical Leave Act	1 point first day ½ point each consecutive day thereafter
Patterned Absence 3 incidents creating a pattern within 3 months; may include but is not limited to calling off on same days of the week, days before or after days off, days before or after payday, days before or after holiday, etc.	2 points
Late for Work 3 to 29 minutes having contacted their department	½ point
Late for Work 30 minutes or more having contacted their department	1 point
Leaving work early after completing more than 2 hours of shift unless due to business demands or approved in advance	½ point
Leaving work before completing 2 hours of shift unless due to business demands or approved in advance	1 point
No Call No Show Team Member does not call and/or No Show by end of second hour of shift	termination
Mandatory Meetings absence/lateness/no call and/or no show	See point progression above
Training Classes absence/lateness/no call and/or no show	See point progression above
Designated Peak Period Business Day	Double points

absence, tardy, or early release is legally protected. Departments may identify up to ten (10) days per year as peak period business days. The department will post each such designated days at least ninety (90) days in advance. Absences of four (4) consecutive days or more are not permitted unless a Team Member has received an approved Leave of Absence (LOA). If a serious health condition prevents a Team Member from coming to work for four (4) or more consecutive days, the Team Member, if eligible, must apply for a Family Medical Leave of Absence (FMLA). Any Team Member absent four (4) consecutive days or more that does not have an approved leave is considered to have voluntarily resigned. All discipline will be issued based on accumulated points in a rolling twelve (12) month period. Therefore, any points older than twelve (12) months will not be used in determining discipline.

Discipline	Accumulated Points
Verbal Warning	3
Written Warning	4
Final Written Warning	5
Termination	6

Team Members must use PTO/floater time when they are absent. The Team Member will still earn the appropriate points listed above based on their absence. Team Members are also responsible for knowing their current attendance point total and level of discipline. After the introductory period, written notification will be issued at (3) points documented verbal, at (4) points a written warning, at (5) points a final written warning, and at (6) points a suspension pending investigation. Written notification should be issued for each point. A Team Member may be terminated after receiving three (3) written notifications. Failure to receive written notifications is not grounds to avoid receiving discipline up to and including termination. A Team Member may also request a copy of their current point totals from management at any time. Each step of progressive counseling need not be issued prior to termination provided that points have been properly assessed.

The Company reserves the right to review each situation on a case-by-case basis, and will comply with all federal, state and local law in administering its attendance policy and any other policy. Any exceptions to the attendance policy must be approved by Corporate Human Resources. This attendance policy replaces and supersedes any existing attendance and punctuality policy currently in effect.

APPEARANCE STANDARDS

Maintaining a professional, clean, and well-groomed appearance is one of the many ways in which Team Members create a favorable experience for Guests. In addition to the guidelines set forth below, many departments have additional, more specific guidelines that address appearance, safety, health, or security considerations. Team Members are expected to comply with all guidelines specific to their position. These guidelines are meant to be the minimum appearance standards. The Company reserves the right to have final determination on whether a Team Member’s appearance complies with its standards.

Team Members who do not meet appearance/uniform standards may be sent home and not permitted to work until their appearance meets the department and Company standards. Failure to comply creates a scheduling hardship for other Team Members in the department and may result in disciplinary action.

The Company will not enforce this policy or any appearance and/or grooming policy in violation of any federal, state, or local equal employment opportunity or other laws. The Company will provide reasonable accommodations to this policy for a Team Member’s religious beliefs and practices, medical needs, or other protected reasons, provided the requested accommodation does not create an undue hardship for the Company and/or does not pose a direct threat to the health or safety of others in the workplace and/or to the individual. Once the Company is aware of the need for an accommodation, the Company will engage in an interactive process to identify possible accommodations. Please direct any requests for accommodations to Human Resources.

Appearance Standards for All Team Members

Hair

Recognizing and accommodating for race- related hair texture and protective hairstyles, the Company requires that hair must be neatly maintained, clean, and appropriately groomed. Hair colors must be a “natural color,” defined as a color that could be grown naturally. Extreme hairstyles and/or colors are not permitted. If a Team Member wants to include a “streak” of color in their hair, this must be pre-ap- proved by management.

Beards and Mustaches

Beards or goatees must be neatly trimmed and clean. Mustaches must be neatly trimmed and clean.

Tattoos

Team Members may have visible tattoos as long as they are deemed non-offensive and appropriate for the Team Member’s role, which shall be determined at the sole discretion of management. If a tattoo is deemed offensive or inappropriate, it is the Team Member’s responsibility to provide the appropriate cover-up during their shift.

Hygiene

Good personal hygiene is required at all times. Team Members are expected to have daily habits of good hygiene, including bathing, grooming, using deodor- ant, brushing teeth, and washing hands regularly when preparing to report for work. It is essential that a Team Member’s personal hygiene products and habits are adequate to protect Guests and other Team Members from offensive odors. Any personal grooming done while on property should be per- formed in Team Member restrooms and/or changing areas, not in Guest or public areas.

Jewelry

Jewelry must be tasteful, professional, and not ex- cessive in style, quantity, or size. Jewelry should not interfere with job performance. Two (2) earrings per ear are allowed but should not hang excessively. Only skin-tone earplugs are permitted for gauged ears. All jewelry must be worn appropriately.

Facial Piercings

One (1) small stud in the nose is permitted. Nose rings and all other facial piercings (tongue, cheek, eyebrow, lip, etc.) are not permitted.

Fingernails

Fingernails must be clean, neatly manicured, and professional looking. Nail length should not interfere with job performance.

Eyewear

Team Members cannot wear dark and/or tinted glasses indoors, unless medically necessary.

Fragrances

Subtle cologne or perfume fragrances are accept- able. However, Team Members should be mindful that scents used too liberally can become overpow- ering for co-workers and Guests.

Hats

Team Members cannot wear hats unless they are part of the uniform. All hats will be provided by the Company or need to be approved by management.

Makeup

Makeup must be subtle, tasteful, and professional.

Gum

Gum chewing is not permitted while in Guest areas.

Facemasks

Team Members may wear plain black, white, or blue facemasks. If a Team Member wears a mask, they must wear it appropriately or they will not be allowed to wear it. Management reserves the right to determine what is and is not appropriate. Depart- ments may have additional guidelines that address appearance, safety, health, or security consider- ations. Team Members are expected to comply with all guidelines specific to their positions, as these guidelines only represent the minimum appearance standards.

EMPLOYMENT POLICIES

No Solicitation or Distribution

In the interest of maintaining productivity and a proper business environment, Team Members may not solicit or distribute literature or other materi- als during the working time of any Team Member involved. Team Members may not distribute litera- ture or other material in working areas, at any time, whether or not they are on working time. Examples of non-working time would be lunch or break, and a non-working area would be the break room.

Team Member Parking / Entrance Policy

For Team Member safety and security reasons, all Team Members are required to park in designated Team Member areas, enter, and exit the building through the designated Team Member entrance. Ob- serve traffic signs and speed limits, as well as pedes- trian right-of-way rules. Team Members are advised to lock their vehicles, remove any valuables, and take all safety precautions when walking to and from their vehicles. Upon request, the Company will provide an escort for Team Members to and from their vehicles. Station Casinos is not responsible for any theft or vehicle damage.

Protected Concerted Activity

The Company will not take any adverse action against Team Members’ rights to engage in protect- ed concerted activity for their mutual aid or protec- tion.

Falsification of Records

Falsifying any Company records, including making statements or omitting information on employment applications and other Company documents, is strictly prohibited and may result in the termination of em- ployment. Team Members who are driving Company vehicles or driving a personal vehicle as part of their job are required to fully comply with Nevada’s law prohibiting cell phone usage while driving.

Company Property

In order to properly perform the duties of their jobs, Team Members may be issued Company property and supplies. The property and supplies are to be used solely for business purposes and are not to be removed from the property without proper authori- zation. Company property and supplies, such as of- fice equipment, tools, manuals, keys, uniforms, etc., must be returned upon separation of employment. Team Members should be respectful of all Compa- ny property/equipment. Destruction of Company property may lead to discipline up to and including termination of employment.

Security-Related Policies

To ensure compliance with policies, laws and regula- tions, and to secure a safe and protected work environment for Team Members and Guests, the following security-related policies apply to all Team Members.

Guest Accidents

Whenever an accident occurs involving a Guest and Team Member, immediately notify the on-duty Supervisor. An accident report must be completed for every Guest and Team Member accident. Details of Guest and Team Member accidents should never be discussed with fellow Team Members or with any other Guest. No statements about blame or respon- sibility should be made.

Inspections

The Company reserves the right to inspect Team Member lockers, personal property and personal vehicles that are on the Company’s premises. The Company reserves the right to inspect any packages, or any other objects brought onto or being taken from the Company’s premises. Failure to fully coop- erate with such inspections is subject to discipline, up to and including termination of employment.

Lost and Found

All lost and found items, regardless of their value, including coins and currency, must be immediately turned in to the Manager on duty.

Removal of Unruly Guests

If a Guest becomes unruly at any time, contact Man- agement immediately.

Searches and Inspections

Team Members are reminded that permission to bring items, such as bags, onto Company property is conditioned on agreeing to inspection by the Company on request. Therefore, in order to protect the safety and property of the Company, Team Members, and Guests, the Company reserves the right to inspect Team Member lockers, desks, cabinets, briefcases, toolboxes, purses, personal computers, handheld devices, personal motor vehicles and any other personal belongings brought onto Company property. As such, Team Members have no expectation of privacy with respect to anything brought to, taken from, or stored on Company premises (this includes all of the parking areas as well as all of the Company's property). Team Members are expected to cooperate in any search. Failure to cooperate may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

All files and records stored on Company computers or other Company-provided electronic storage devices are the property of the Company and may be inspected at any time. In addition, all electronic mail and voicemail messages are for business purposes only and are considered Company property subject to inspection at any time. Please see the Electronic Communications policy for additional information.

Surveillance and Monitoring

To ensure regulatory compliance and protect against gaming fraud, we conduct surveillance of our properties. Team Members are reminded that they may be under surveillance at any time, including, but not limited to, video surveillance. Acceptance of employment with the Company authorizes such surveillance activity without further notice. The Company further utilizes electronic surveillance and retains the right to randomly monitor movement and activity on the property. Accordingly, during the normal course of operations, Team Members are monitored or observed from time-to-time and should make no assumptions of privacy. The Company will not use video surveillance equipment in violation of any federal, state or local law.

Tampering with surveillance or security equipment, taking measures to avoid observation or monitoring, or interfering with security or surveillance activities is strictly prohibited and subject to discipline, up to and including termination of employment.

In addition, to maintain a high level of Guest service and to ensure consistent training for Team Members, the Company periodically monitors and/or records conversations between Company Team Members and outside callers. Consent for the Company to monitor and record Guest phone calls is a condition of employment. The Company's use of monitoring and/or recording equipment complies with state and federal law.

Unlawful Activity

Team Members are not permitted to engage in any unlawful activity, including, but not limited to activity either on Company property, a job site, or off the job. Team Members who are convicted of or charged with a criminal offense must report the charge or conviction to their manager or Human Resources department within seven (7) calendar days of the conviction or charge. Failure to report such charges and/or convictions may result in discipline, up to and including termination of employment.

Firearms, Weapons and Dangerous Instruments

The Company prohibits Team Members and all other persons (other than law enforcement and authorized security personnel) from having weapons (including firearms) in working areas, in buildings, or on their person during working time or while performing work. Unless otherwise stated in this Handbook or provided by law, ammunition, explosives, weapons or dangerous instruments of any kind are prohibited on Company property and in Company vehicles at any time. Likewise, no Team Member may possess any ammunition, explosive, other weapon, or dangerous instrumentalities at any time on Company property and/or while performing any work for the Company. Although the Company retains the right to determine the scope of this paragraph on other weapons and the terms contained in it, "possess" as used in this policy generally means having on one's person, in a vehicle or any vehicle assigned, or in other property in one's presence or under one's control (such as bags, packages, purses, briefcases, backpacks, desks, toolboxes, lockers, etc.), while on Company premises or while performing work for the Company, regardless of location.

Any violation of this policy may subject a Team Member to discipline, up to and including immediate termination. Team Members who have any questions concerning the application of this policy should consult Human Resources.

Alcohol and Drug Policy

Substance abuse impacts productivity, safety, performance, absenteeism, and health, it is the Company's right, obligation and intent to maintain, through drug testing, education and counseling, a safe, healthy, and efficient working environment. The Company's Alcohol and Drug Policy is also a means to protect Team Members, Guests, the Company's property, business, reputation, equipment and operations. Team Members are prohibited from manufacturing, cultivating, distributing, dispensing, possessing, or using illegal drugs or other unauthorized, mind-altering, or intoxicating substances while on Company property (including parking areas and grounds), or while otherwise performing their work duties away from the Company's premises. Included within this prohibition are lawful controlled substances which have been illegally or improperly obtained. This policy does not prohibit the possession and proper use of lawfully prescribed drugs taken in accordance with the prescription.

All Team Members are prohibited from distributing, possessing, or using alcohol, cannabis, or THC-containing products while at work or on duty. Furthermore, off-duty alcohol, cannabis, or THC-containing products use, while generally not prohibited by this policy, must not exhibit detectable signs of usage or interfere with the Team Member's ability to perform the essential functions of their job.

Prescription Drugs

The proper use of medication prescribed by your physician is not prohibited; however, the Company does prohibit the misuse of prescribed medication. Team Members' prescription medication use may affect their job performance, such as by causing dizziness or drowsiness. You are required to disclose any medication that may cause a risk of harm to themselves or to others in performing your job duties. It is the responsibility every Team Member to determine from their physician whether a prescribed drug may impair their job performance.

Notification of Impairment

Each Team Member who observes or has knowledge of another Team Member in a condition which impairs the Team Member in the performance of their job duties, or who presents a hazard to the safety and welfare of others, or is otherwise in violation of this policy, must promptly report that fact to their supervisor or another member of management.

Who is Tested

Team Members may be required to submit to drug or alcohol screening whenever the Company has a reasonable suspicion that the Team Member have violated any of the rules set forth in this policy. Reasonable suspicion may arise from, among other factors, supervisory observation, coworker reports or complaints, performance decline, attendance or behavioral changes, results of searches or other detection methods, or involvement in a work-related injury or accident that may have been caused by drug or alcohol impairment. Injury or accident-based testing does not apply where the incident or accident is unlikely to have occurred as a result of drug or alcohol use, or where the cause of the incident or injury is known or clear (e.g., vehicle accident where the Team Member was not at fault, Team Member purposely injured by a second party, bug bites that require treatment, etc.). Additionally, Team Members in safety sensitive positions may be tested on a random or periodic basis to the extent permitted by applicable state and federal laws.

Discipline

Violation of this policy or any of its provisions may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Workplace Violence Policy

At Station Casinos, a safe work environment is fundamental to the success of our Team Members and our Company. Each Team Member has the right to a workplace free from intimidating, threatening or dangerous behaviors and practices. The Company will not tolerate the following actions by anyone at any level: fighting, violence, violent words or threats of violence, remarks or behaviors that are discriminatory and/or physically abusive, intimidating behavior, or acts of violence or aggression or encouraging such conduct against Team Members, Guests, vendors, or any other individual at any property.

Any Team Member that violates this policy will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment. In addition, violators will be prosecuted to the fullest extent permitted by law. All Team Members are responsible for informing a supervisor or manager with whom they are comfortable, and/or the Human Resources director and/or the general manager if they have been subject to or witnessed any such behavior. All reports of workplace violence will be investigated.

Enforcement Policy

In order to enforce this policy and procedures, the Company may investigate potential violations and require Team Members to undergo drug or alcohol screening, including urinalysis, blood tests, or other appropriate tests and, where appropriate, searches of all areas of the Company's physical premises, including, but not limited to work areas, personal articles, Team Members' clothes, desks, workstations, lockers, and personal and Company vehicles. Team Members will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment for refusing to cooperate with searches or investigations, refusing to submit to screening, tampering with any screening sample, or for failing to execute consent forms when required by the Company.

All Team Members who test positive in a confirmed substance test will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Any Team Member who refuses to submit to a drug/alcohol test when requested or refuses to sign the Company's drug/alcohol testing authorization form will be treated as a positive test result and may be subject to one of more of the following consequences:

- 1. Placement on suspension from work pending investigation
- 2. Suspension or forfeiture of worker's compensation benefits
- 3. Discipline up to and including termination of employment

Management Reserves The Right To Use Various Methods To Determine Compliance With Its Substance Abuse/Testing Policy. Team Members May Request A Copy Of The Entire Policy From The Human Resources Department.

Safety and Reporting of Accidents and Hazards

Health, well-being, and safety are paramount concerns for Team Members. Following common-sense safety practices is a requirement. Correcting or reporting any unsafe condition, defective or malfunctioning tool or equipment to a supervisor is mandatory. All Team Members are expected to cooperate with the Company in maintaining safe working conditions.

All accidents, whether involving serious injury, Guests, or property damage, require immediate reporting to a supervisor. Promptly report any unsafe conditions, defective tools or equipment, or other hazards to the manager on duty. Assisting the Company in upholding safe working conditions is the responsibility of all Team Members. Safety is a state of mind and requires constant vigilance and common sense. Safety is everyone's responsibility.

All Team Members are required to adhere completely to all Company and OSHA safety requirements, as well as state and federal laws and insurance Company requirements. Failure to comply with safety requirements will result in discipline, up to and including termination.

Basic Safety Rules Include:

- 1. Do not remove guards or other safety devices, except pursuant to proper maintenance and repair guidelines. Never operate equipment without required electrical grounding.
- 2. Promptly report all hazardous conditions, broken equipment, or unsafe practices to a supervisor.
- 3. Wear a seat belt when in a Company vehicle.
- 4. Follow all department or equipment safety rules.
- 5. Use personal protective equipment (PPE) when required.
- 6. Report all accidents immediately to your Supervisor.
- 7. Refrain from horseplay and practical jokes.
- 8. Follow lock out - tag out rules.
- 9. Adhere to OSHA requirements.
- 10. Do not remove or tamper with Life Safety devices.

Company Vehicles / Violations

Lawful, safe and careful driving is required at all times in Company vehicles and while driving on behalf of the Company. Team Members that are driving Company vehicles or driving a personal vehicle as part of their job are required to have a valid driver's license and fully comply with Nevada's law prohibiting cell phone usage while driving.

Anti-Human Trafficking

The Company will not tolerate or condone human trafficking in any form, including sex trafficking, slavery, forced, involuntary or coerced labor, and child labor on its properties, or by any of the Company's officers, vice presidents, directors, Team Members, agents, contractors, subcontractors, or suppliers in the operation or support of its business. To that end, the Company requires that its businesses, and each of its officers, vice presidents, directors, Team Members, agents, contractors, subcontractors, and suppliers shall:

- 1. Not engage in or allow any form of human trafficking, whether by force, fraud, or coercion; or any form of involuntary servitude or slavery; or any form of sex trafficking or the procurement of any commercial sex act.
- 2. Not use any form of forced, involuntary or coerced labor, including through the use of:
 - Threats of serious harm to, or physical restraint against, a person or another person
 - Any scheme, plan, or pattern intended to cause a person to believe that, if the person did not perform such labor or services, the person or another person would suffer serious harm or physical restraint
 - Any abuse or threatened abuse of law or the legal process.
- 3. Not engage in, or support the use of, child labor and shall comply with all applicable federal, state, and local child labor laws.
- 4. Comply with all applicable federal, state, and local labor laws relating to wages, benefits, and working hours.

Technology and Internet Usage Policy

The Company provides Team Members with access to technology -- computers, email, internet access, telephones, etc. -- to enable them to support the Company's business and to conduct specific work-related activities. Technology is a Company asset regardless of whether it is owned, leased, or licensed. In addition, information -- files, data, email, etc. -- contained in or on Company technology, whether personal or business, is Company property. There is an expectation that every Team Member will use good judgment in the proper and respectful use of the Company’s technology and electronic communications systems. Negligence in the care and use of Company property, unauthorized removal of Company property from the premises without a “back-door” pass, or conversion of Company property to personal use is prohibited. The Company has adopted this policy to promote a safe and professional working environment, protect valuable assets such as data, hardware and software, and ensure technology can be managed effectively and securely. Violation of this policy may lead to disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.

This policy governs the use of all Company-owned computers, databases, and personal computers used for Company business, email and voicemail systems, and Internet access via Company computers and/or data lines, hereinafter referred to in this policy as “Company IT.” Personal computers used for Company business include laptops, tablets, or home computers that are connected to the Company’s network on a regular or intermittent basis.

The Company invests in information technology to facilitate the business of the Company. These tools are intended to assist Team Members with the execution of their job duties and must not be abused. Team Members should not use or access Company IT in any manner that is contrary to this policy.

Company Property

All Company IT is the Company’s property. All information that is temporarily or permanently stored, transmitted, or received with the aid of Company IT remains the sole and exclusive property of the Company. In addition, all data temporarily or permanently received, collected, downloaded, uploaded, copied, and/or created on Company IT, and all data temporarily or permanently received, collected, downloaded, uploaded, copied, and/ or created on non-Company computers used for Company business that relates in any manner to the Company’s business is subject to monitoring by the Company, is the exclusive property of the Company and may not be copied or transmitted to any outside party or used in any manner that violates this policy.

All software that has been installed on Company IT may not be used in any manner that violates this policy.

Upon termination of employment, Team Members are prohibited from removing any software, documents, or data from Company IT and must completely remove all data collected, downloaded, and/ or created on non-Company computers used for Company business that relate in any manner to the Company’s business. Upon request of the Company, a terminated Team Member will provide proof that such data has been removed from all personal computers used for Company business.

Prohibited Use Under Any Circumstances It is not possible to identify every type of inappropriate or impermissible use of Company IT. The following conduct, however, is strictly prohibited under any circumstances and at any time:

- Team Members may not transmit, retrieve, download, or store inappropriate messages or images relating to sex, race, religion, or any other protected category as defined in the Equal Employment Opportunity Policy, or any other status protected under federal, state, and local laws.
- Team Members may not use Company IT in any way that violates the Company’s policy against unlawful harassment, including sexual harassment. By way of example, Team Members may not
 - transmit messages that would constitute sexual harassment; may not use sexually suggestive or explicit screen savers or backgrounds; may not access, browse, receive, transmit, or print pornographic, obscene or sexually offensive material or information; and may not access, browse, transmit, retrieve, download, store, or print messages or images that are offensive, derogatory, defamatory, off-color, sexual in content, or otherwise inappropriate in a business environment.
- Team Members are also prohibited from communicating threatening or harassing statements to another Team Member, or to a vendor,

Guest, or other outside party.

- Team Members may not use Company IT in any manner that violates the Company’s Team Member Conduct policies.
- Team Members may not use Company IT in any manner that violates the Protection of the Company’s Trade Secrets and Confidential Information policy.
- Team Members may not use or allow another individual to use Company IT for any purpose that is competitive with the Company. All such access and use is unauthorized.
- Team Members must honor and comply with all laws applicable to trademarks, copyrights, patents and licenses to software and other electronically available information. Team Members may not send, receive, download, upload, or copy software or other copyrighted or otherwise legally protected information through Company IT, email, or the Internet without prior authorization.
- Team Members may not engage in gambling of any kind, stream movies or videos, watch television programs, or play electronic games utilizing Company IT.
- Team Members may not engage in day trading, or otherwise purchase or sell stocks, bonds or other securities or transmit, retrieve, download, or store messages or images related to the purchase or sale of stocks, bonds, or other securities through Company IT.

Prohibited Use During Working Time

The following conduct is prohibited during a Team Member’s working time, which excludes time spent on a Team Member meals or rest breaks, or before or after a shift:

- Team Members may not solicit personal business opportunities or conduct personal advertising through Company IT.
- Team members may not download, transmit, stream, or retrieve messages, data, or information from multi-network gateways, real-time data, and conversation programs including, but not limited to, messaging services, social media, or similar platforms, unless such activity is necessary for business purposes.

Unsolicited Email

Abuse of email, as well as the receipt and transmission of unsolicited commercial email places an incredible drain on the Company’s servers and network and imposes significant monetary costs to filter and remove unsolicited emails from our system. Team Members may not use Company IT to transmit unsolicited commercial email. Examples include:

- Promoting the Company’s business, goods, products, and services without prior authorization.
- Promoting their own personal business, goods, products, and services.
- Communicating via email with Company Guests who have elected to “opt-out” of receiving the Company’s electronic advertisements.
- Communicating via email any content that contains or is accompanied by maliciously false information.

In addition, to help the Company eliminate the receipt of unsolicited commercial email from outside parties advertising various websites, products, or services, and to further prevent the receipt of offensive or undesired outside email, Team Members should report unfamiliar or suspicious email from outside the Company using the report phish button in Microsoft Outlook and delete without opening it.

Monitoring

Team Members should expect that all information created, transmitted, downloaded, received, or stored in Company IT may be accessed by the Company at any time without prior notice. Team Members should have no expectation of privacy or confidentiality in such data, messages, or information (whether or not password-protected), or that deleted messages are necessarily removed from the system.

The Company's monitoring policy may include, but is not limited to, inspection of internet activity, e-mails sent or received, internal drives, external memory devices, and mobile devices; or review of content passing through the Company's network, data lines, and other systems; and use of screen monitorin software.

System Integrity

Because outside storage devices may compromise Company IT, Team Members are not permitted to use personal storage devices or copies of software or data in any form on any Company computer without first: (1) obtaining specific authorization from the IT Manager, and (2) scanning the data for viruses or malware. Any Team Member who introduces a virus or malware into the Company's system via use of personal software or data will be deemed guilty of gross negligence and/or willful misconduct and may be held responsible for the consequences, including cost of repair and lost productivity. Similarly, information is not to be downloaded directly from the Internet onto Company IT.

Enforcement

Violations of this policy may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination. Team Members who damage Company IT through unauthorized use may additionally be liable for the costs resulting from such damage. Team Members who unlawfully misappropriate copyrighted or confidential and proprietary information, or who unlawfully distribute harassing messages or information, or who unlawfully access the computer systems and information it stores may additionally be subject to criminal prosecution and/or substantial civil money damages.

Social Media & Blogging

The Company recognizes that internet-provided social media (as defined in the Technology & Internet Usage Policy, above) can be a highly effective tool for sharing ideas and exchanging information. However, the Company also is concerned with ensuring that the use of social media serves its need to maintain its brand identity, integrity, and reputation while minimizing actual or potential legal risks. The Company therefore establishes the following rules and guidelines for communicating employer information via social media. Violation of this policy may lead to disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.

- Team Members are strongly encouraged to exercise care when using social media as their communications may be seen as unlawful harassment, libel, slander, defamation, disparagement, or discrimination. Team Members are prohibited from using social media in a way that constitutes a violation of the Company's No-Harassment Policy.
- Team Members who maintain personal social media webpages and choose to identify themselves as Team Members of the Company are strongly encouraged to state explicitly, clearly, and in a prominent place on the site that views expressed are their own and not those of the Company or of any person or organization affiliated or doing business with the Company.
- The Company respects Team Members' right to express personal opinions when using personal social media webpages and does not retaliate or discriminate against Team Members who use them for political, organizing, or other lawful purposes.
- The Company protects its logos, copyrights, trademarks, trade secrets and confidential/proprietary information (including its financial information, trade secrets, marketing lists, Guest account information, strategic business plans, competitor intelligence, business contracts and other proprietary and non-public Company information that Team Members can access). Unless such activity is otherwise protected by law, Team Members must not display or disclose such material through social media without prior written approval from the Company.

- Team Members cannot advertise or sell Company products via social media without the prior written approval from the Company.
- The Company protects its premises, including Team Members and Guest on its premises from unlawful violations of privacy and disclosures. Team Members are prohibited from making unlawful audio recordings, videos, or photos of Team Members and/or Customers for personal and individual reasons and/or that violate any applicable right of privacy on Company premises or display such items publicly. The Company reserves the right to (and does) use software and search tools to monitor comments or discussions about it, its representatives, its products, its Guests, its vendors and its competitors that are posted anywhere on the Internet, including social media.

The Company respects the rights of Team Members who wish to express personal opinions and communicate concerning the terms and conditions of a Team Member's employment.

Media Policy

It is imperative that one person speak for the Company to deliver an appropriate message and avoid giving misinformation.

The Company respects the rights of Team Members to express personal opinions and communicate concerning the terms and conditions of their employment. However, Team Members may not represent their own personal opinion or the personal opinion of other Team Members as an official policy of the Company. Nothing in this media policy is intended to interfere with the rights of Team Members under federal and state laws, including the National Labor Relations Act, to speak with the media generally and/or about the terms and conditions of employment.

Team Member Gambling

Team Members are required to read and sign an acknowledgment form to indicate their understanding and compliance with our Company's Gambling Policy. While not an exhaustive list, the Company's TeamMember Gambling Policy prohibits all Team Members from:

- Gambling while on duty
- Gambling while in uniform (Exception: those authorized to gamble may place Race and Sports bets during authorized breaks)
- Gambling 30 minutes or less prior to the start of their scheduled shift
- Gambling at or collecting winnings from any Table Game at the property at which the Team Member is employed.

Responsible Gaming

Station Casinos recognizes that problem gambling can have a detrimental effect on the lives of its Guests, Team Members, and ultimately the community. The Company is a responsible corporate citizen, which provides tools and resources to Team Members and Guests to prevent and treat problem gambling.

Minors

Nevada laws prohibit anyone under the age of 21 to be in the casino or lounge area, gamble, consume alcohol, or loiter in gaming and bar areas, even when accompanied by an adult. Any Team Member who violates or permits the violation of these laws is also guilty of a misdemeanor and can face arrest, fines, and the revocation of their gaming or non-gaming work card/registration.

Team Members in all departments are responsible for helping to enforce these laws, including verifying ages of Guests and asking minors to leave gaming or liquor areas. Problems or questions should be directed to and handled by managers.

Sarbanes-Oxley Act

The Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 addresses audits, financial reporting and disclosure, conflicts of interest and corporate governance at publicly traded companies. The Company’s document retention policy and its policies on Ethical Standards and Responsible Behavior help ensure compliance with the requirements of the Act.

Record Retention

When hired, all Team Members are given a copy of the Company’s Record Retention policy. It is important that all Team Members read and follow it carefully. In efficiently managing The Company’s businesses, it is essential to have a Records Retention policy in place. This policy aids in complying with requests for documents and prevents the negative consequences and expenses related to locating and retrieving files. The policy encompasses all business records under the physical control of Station Casinos LLC, including electronic records like email and computer disks, as well as desk calendars, appointment books, and correspondence files. Please review this policy thoroughly and direct all inquiries to a manager.

No Harassment

The Company is committed to providing a working environment free from harassment, intimidation, insult or other unlawful discriminatory conduct on the basis of an individual’s race (including hair texture and protective hairstyles), color, religion, national origin, sex/gender (including pregnancy, childbirth, or a related medical condition, nursing mothers, or victims of domestic violence), age, physical or mental disability (including human immunodeficiency virus and including the use of an aid, appliance, or service animal), sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, status as a covered veteran, or any other protected status under local, state, or federal law.

The Company’s policy against unlawful harassment, discrimination, and retaliation applies to all Team Members, including supervisors and managers. It also applies to all Guests, vendors, and independent contractors (all of whom are designated for the terms of this policy as “Business Associates”). The Company prohibits managers, supervisors, and Team Members from harassing subordinates or co-workers as well as the Company’s Business Associates. Any such harassment will subject the Team Member to disciplinary action, up to and including immediate termination. Not all harassment is legally actionable; nevertheless, if a Team Member’s behavior violates Company policy, the Team Member may still be subject to disciplinary action. The Company likewise prohibits its Business Associates from harassing Team Members and will deal appropriately with any reports or observation of harassing conduct by any Business Associate.

Examples of Prohibited Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment includes a broad spectrum of conduct including harassment based on sex, gender identity, or sexual orientation. By way of illustration only, and not limitation, some examples of unlawful and unacceptable behavior include:

- Unwanted sexual advances or flirtation.
- Offering an employment benefit (such as a raise or promotion) in exchange for sexual favors, or threatening an adverse action (such as termination or demotion) for a Team Member’s failure to engage in sexual activity.
- Visual conduct, such as leering, making sexual gestures, and displaying or posting sexually suggestive objects or images.
- Verbal sexual advances, propositions, requests, or comments.
- Electronically sending or posting sexually-related text messages, videos, or images.
- Verbal abuse of a sexual nature, graphic verbal comments about an individual’s appearance or anatomy, sexually degrading words used to describe an individual, and suggestive or obscene letters, notes, or invitations.
- Physical conduct, such as touching, kissing, groping, assault, or blocking movement.
- Physical or verbal abuse concerning an individual’s gender identity.
- Verbal abuse concerning a person’s characteristics such as pitch of voice, facial hair or the size or shape of a person’s body, including remarks regarding an individual’s masculinity or femininity.

Other Examples of What Constitutes Prohibited Harassment

In addition to the above listed conduct, the Company strictly prohibits harassment concerning any other protected characteristic. By way of illustration only, and not limitation, such prohibited harassment includes:

- Racial or ethnic slurs, insults, and any other offensive remarks based on a protected characteristic.
- Jokes, whether written, verbal, or electronic, that are based on a protected characteristic.
- Mocking or ridiculing another’s religious or cultural beliefs, practices, or manner of dress.
- Threats, intimidation, horseplay, or other menacing behaviors that are based on a protected characteristic.
- Inappropriate verbal, graphic, or physical conduct, including practical jokes based on a protected characteristic
- Electronically sending or posting harassing text messages, videos, or images.
- Other harassing conduct based on one or more of the protected characteristics identified in this policy.

Team Members with any questions about what constitutes prohibited harassing behavior should ask their supervisor or the property’s Human Resources Department.

Prohibition Against Retaliation:

The Company is committed to prohibiting retaliation against those who report, oppose, or participate in an investigation of alleged unlawful harassment, discrimination, or other wrongdoing in the workplace. By way of example only, participating in such an investigation includes, but is not limited to:

- Filing a complaint with a federal or state enforcement or administrative agency.
- Participating in or cooperating with a federal or state enforcement agency conducting an investigation of the Company regarding alleged unlawful activity.

- Testifying as a party, witness, or accused regarding alleged unlawful activity.
- Making or filing an internal complaint with the Company regarding alleged unlawful activity.
- Providing notice to the Company regarding alleged unlawful activity.
- Assisting another Team Member who is engaged in any of these activities.
- Electronically sending or posting harassing text messages, videos, or images.
- Other harassing conduct based on one or more of the protected characteristics identified in this policy.

Team Members with any questions about what constitutes prohibited harassing behavior should ask their supervisor or the property’s Human Resources Department. The Company is further committed to prohibiting retaliation against qualified Team Members who request a reasonable accommodation for any known physical or mental disability and Team Members who request a reasonable accommodation of their religious beliefs and practices.

Steps if a Team Member Feels They Have Been Harassed, Discriminated, or Retaliated Against

If a Team Member feels that they are being or have been harassed, discriminated against, or retaliated against in violation of this policy by any Team Member, supervisor, manager, or Business Associate of the Company, the Team Member should immediately report it to their manager or supervisor or to their property’s Human Resources department. In addition, if a Team Member observes harassment by another Team Member, supervisor, manager, or business associate, please report the incident immediately as indicated above.

Supervisors who receive any report or complaint of harassment, discrimination, or retaliation or otherwise observe any harassment, discrimination or harassment must promptly report such report, complaint, or observation to Human Resources.

The notification of the problem is essential to the Company. The Company cannot help resolve a harassment problem unless it knows about it. Therefore, it is the Team Member’s responsibility to bring their concerns and/or problems to the Company’s attention, so the Company can take appropriate steps to address the situation. The Company takes all complaints of unlawful harassment seriously and will not penalize or retaliate against the Team Member in any way for reporting a harassment problem in good faith.

All complaints of unlawful harassment which are reported to management will be investigated as promptly as possible by an impartial and qualified person and, upon conclusion of such investigation, appropriate corrective action will be taken where warranted. The Company prohibits Team Members from refusing to cooperate with internal investigations and the internal complaint procedure. All complaints of unlawful harassment reported to management will be treated as confidentially as possible, consistent with the Company’s need to conduct an adequate investigation.

The Company recognizes that false claims of harassment made in bad faith can be damaging to reputations and can cause many problems. Therefore, action will be taken against those individuals found to be making false claims in bad faith, with the same seriousness as in cases of harassment.

The Company prohibits any form of retaliation against any Team Member. Violation of this policy will subject a Team Member to disciplinary action, up to and including immediate termination. Moreover, any Supervisor or Manager who condones or ignores potential violations of this policy will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Association Policy

A conflict of interest may exist whenever a Team Member’s judgment and/or decision-making is affected or can be called into question because of a close relationship. In an effort to provide an atmosphere of professional business practices among all Team Members, the Company has adopted an Association Policy to help eliminate any appearance of favoritism, collusion and/or breaches of confidentiality. Team Members who are related, dating, married or cohabiting may not work in a supervisor/subordinate relationship. For purposes of this policy, a relative is a spouse, child, parent, sibling, grandparent, grandchild, aunt, uncle, first cousin or corresponding in-law or “step” relation. Cohabitants are persons who share mutual living quarters.

The Company will work with all parties to try to resolve any conflict of interest. This may include one of the Team Members being required to move to another property or department so a supervisor/subordinate relationship does not exist. If this is not possible, it may be necessary for the Company to separate the employment of one or both of the Team Members. In addition, the Company may refuse to hire an applicant, promote, or transfer a Team Member, if doing so would breach the conflict-of-interest guidelines. Team Members who become related, begin dating, marry or begin cohabitation are obligated to immediately inform their supervisor. Failure to inform can result in discipline up to and including termination of employment.

Confidentiality Policy

The Company deals with a range of non-public, confidential and proprietary material that could cause commercial damage to the Company or Team Members if disclosed to outside sources.

In the course of their employment with the Company, Team Members may be exposed to and/or provided with trade secrets (“Trade Secrets”) and other confidential and proprietary information (“Confidential Information”) of the Company relating to the operation of the Company’s business and its Guests (collectively referred to as “Trade Secrets/Confidential Information”).

“Trade Secrets” applies to information, including a formula, pattern, compilation, program, device, method, technique or process, that: (1) derives independent economic value, actual or potential, from not being generally known to the public or to other persons or entities who can obtain economic value from its disclosure or use; and (2) is the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain its secrecy. The Company’s Trade Secrets are: (1) not generally known to the public or to the Company’s competitors; (2) were developed or compiled at significant expense by the Company over an extended period of time; and (3) are the subject of the Company’s reasonable efforts to maintain their secrecy.

‘Confidential information’ is information not generally known outside the Company concerning its business and technical information, including but not limited to, patent applications, information relating to inventions, discoveries, products, proprietary plans, calculations, concepts, design sheets, design data, system designs, blueprints, computer programs, algorithms, software, firmware, hardware, manuals, drawings, photographs, devices, samples, models, processes, specifications, instructions, research, test procedures and results, equipment, identity and description of computerized records, customers lists, supplier identity, marketing and sales plans, Company financial information, business plans, costs, and pricing information. The following is also considered Confidential Information: concepts, business plans, designs and recipes for: restaurants, bars, entertainment venues, games and gaming devices and gaming tournaments. Confidential Information does not include information about wages or any other terms of employment. You must protect confidential information related to the Company from inappropriate disclosure and use it solely for the benefit of the Company

As part of the consideration Team Members provide to the Company in exchange for their employment and continued employment with the Company, Team Members are required to agree with and acknowledge that all Trade Secrets/ Confidential Information that they develop, create, or maintain remains at all times the sole property of the Company, and that if the Company’s Trade Secrets/Confidential Information were disclosed to a competing business or otherwise used in an unauthorized manner, such disclosure or use would cause immediate and irreparable harm to the Company and would give a competing business an unfair business advantage against the Company.

Team Members are strictly prohibited, at all times during their employment with the Company, except with prior written approval of the Company’s President, from forwarding from their Company email account to personal email account(s) any emails or documents containing any Trade Secrets/ Confidential Information, as well as from copying, transferring or uploading to their personal cloud-based or online storage accounts (such as a personal Dropbox or Google Drive account) any documents containing any Trade Secrets/Confidential Information. Team Members are also strictly prohibited, at all times during their employment with the Company, except with the express or implicit authorization of the Company, and then only for the sole benefit of the Company during the term of employment, from removing from the premises of the Company any physical item or document, or any written, electronic or recorded copy of any physical item or document, containing or embodying any Trade Secrets/Confidential Information, including without limitations the same in electronic or digital form.

Team Members must not leave any of the Company’s Trade Secrets/Confidential Information unattended in any area, whether on or off the Company’s premises, where leaving such information unattended creates a risk that the information may be accessed or acquired by any individual who is not authorized to view or access the Trade Secrets/Confidential Information.

Team Members must not, except as required in the conduct of the Company’s business or as authorized in writing by the Company, disclose or use during the term of their employment or subsequent thereto any Trade Secrets/ Confidential Information. Furthermore, all records, files, plans, documents, and the like relating to the business of the Company that a Team Member prepares, uses, or comes in contact with remains the sole property of the Company and is not to be copied without written permission of the Company and is to be returned to the Company on termination of their employment, regardless of whether requested by the Company to do so at the time of their termination, or at the Company’s request at any time.Nothing in this policy should be read or considered as preventing or in any way limiting Team Members from discussing or disclosing information related to their wages, benefits, and/or terms of employment.

KIND

We assist others with the intention of making a positive difference with them. We approach every interaction with humility, never assuming we know it all or that we are superior to others.

INCLUSIVE

We always extend a warm welcome to others, making them feel like they belong. We maintain an open-minded attitude and actively listen to understand, ensuring effective communication.

FORWARD THINKING

We believe in continual improvement, fostering curiosity, and a willingness to learn. Our proactive approach allows us to anticipate needs rather than waiting to be asked.

RELIABLE

We are dependable, honest, and uphold integrity in all that we do. We work diligently to consistently deliver products and services with a high degree of attention to detail.

PASSIONATE

We love what we do, and what we do is win hearts. While we take our roles and responsibilities seriously, we also enjoy some fun along the way.

SELF-AWARE

We remain attentive and fully present when interacting with others, responding empathetically and urgently to their needs. We prioritize the well-being of both ourselves and others, ensuring that safety is always at the forefront of our thoughts and actions.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF RECEIPT OF TEAM MEMBER HANDBOOK

I acknowledge that I have received a copy of the Seventy-Six by Station Casinos Team Member Handbook that covers many important Company policies. I understand that it is my responsibility to familiarize myself with the Handbook and all of its contents. I understand that this Handbook represents only current policies and benefits and that it does not create a contract of employment. The Company retains the right to change these policies and benefits at any time, without advance notice, as it deems appropriate.

I understand that I have the right to terminate my employment at any time, for any reason with or without advance notice, and, except for non-supervisory, non-introductory Team Members, that the Company has a similar right. I further understand that my status as an at-will Team Member may not be changed except in writing signed by the Company’s Chairman and Chief Executive Officer.

I acknowledge and understand that none of the provisions or terms in this Handbook are intended to nor do they restrict, limit, or interfere with any of my protected rights, including my rights under the National Labor Relations Act, and that I should not interpret any provision or term in this Handbook to have such impact.
